

Kimberly Schreiber has 25 years of legal and mediation experience which includes international speaking and training, business consulting, accounting, and fractional in-house counsel roles. Her expertise includes alternative dispute resolution, contract law, family law, curriculum development, face reading and nonverbal communication, Lean Six Sigma, business startups, arbitration and negotiation.

Kimberly is a Listed Mediator in multiple U.S. states and countries. She is an approved trainer in Civil/General and Family Mediation. Also Specially Trained in Domestic Violence Issues, Online Dispute Resolution, Juvenile Court and Elder Mediation. She has also had the privilege of training mediators all over the world for more than a decade. As a teacher, she has developed curriculum and taught at universities and law schools in Poland, Germany, Australia, United Kingdom, Switzerland, UAE, India and the United States. As a FINRA Arbitrator for the last several years, she has experience in evaluating and assessing complex legal matters. She frequently speaks about mediation, negotiation, law, ethics, organizational leadership and conflict resolution through seminars, adjunct teaching, approved CLE/CME/CPE courses, television appearances, radio appearances, podcasts and international keynote speaking engagements. Finally, she has authored and contributed to numerous books, articles and publications and founded a global nonprofit focused on training and credentialing mediators as well as the second alternative dispute resolution Inn of Court in the United States. In her free time, she enjoys spending time with her four teenage sons.